Boy Scout News

Throughout the past week Troop 315, sponsored by the Mt. Zion M.E. Church on Walter and Altoona streets, Walnut Hills, has been extremely busy participating in the various Scout activities. Sunday a group of the junior officers assisted by our Scoutmaster and Field Executive, D. D. Nelson, set to work decorating a Scout window next door to the Roosevelt theatre and later the entire troop took part in the annual Scout Sunday services held at the church.

Rev. F. R. Arnold spoke on Scouting and Scouts served as ushers, color guards and took charge of other offices during the service, members of Troop 368, including many parents, relatives and friends were our guests and Bishop M. Clare from out-of-town was also present.

Friday the Drum and Bugle corps played at the Elks' Temple and as usual Scoutmaster William Collins conducted the regular troop meeting in our Scout hall with more than 60 members present. After the opening ceremonies Senior Patrol Leader Charles Dillard received the patrol reports from the various patrols and members of the Fox patrol were assigned to bringing a program for the next meeting.

A. E. Roberts will be an honored guest during the evening and the Scouts of the Troop will render a program and the Mothers' Auxiliary will aid in preparing the banquet dinner.

After the patrol activity period the scouts who took the tour through the East last summer told of some of their experiences while at some of the Scout camps in different cities. It was announced that a similar tour would be taken this summer to Canada. The monthly amateur program was featured by the members of the Highland Rover patrol. Scouts Allen Beatty, Noble Kellogg and Wheeler James were declared winners for the evening. During the test period Charles Able was presented his tenderfoot pin and signalling, safety knife and hatchet and the compass was passed by Scouts Noble Kellogg, Allen Beatty, Jack Canida, Herbert Allen and Charles Able. Senior Patrol Leader Charles Dillard was also advanced to the rank of a life Scout and passed leathercraft at the last Court of Honor.

E. church on Walter and Altoona street, Walnut Hills, it was announced that arrangements had been completed for the Troop's sixth anniversary banquet which will be held at the church on Tuesday. Scout Executive A. E. Roberts of the Cincinnati Council of Boy Scouts will speak and a program on Scouting and music by the Troop 315, a mighty drum and bugle corps, will furnish entertainment during the evening and the Scout Mothers' club will prepare and serve the banquet supper.

Friday the regular Scout meeting of Troop 315 sponsored by the Mt. Zion M. E. church on Walter and Altoona streets was conducted in our Scout hall in the church. After the opening ceremonies which were led by Eagle Scout Lee Williams, Scoutmaster W. W. Collins gave a brief talk on advancing to high ranks. He also stated that 72 Scouts had registered for the new year and in order to keep the good standard of the troop, it would now be necessary to start a waiting list for newcomers wishing to join the troop. Senior Patrol Leader Charles Dillard also issued a notice to all his Patrol Leaders, urging them to see that every tenderfoot scout was a Second Class Scout by the day of the banquet. Recruits were also given three weeks to complete their test and our next meeting a new scout program system will be inaugurated in the troop by the junior officers. In the Patrol content which has been running for the past month it was announced that the Flying Eagle Patrol had won the contest by having a total number of 1067 points, the Fox and Panther came in second place, as tie, and the Wolf Patrol came in third place.

Several changes were made in Patrol Leaders for the new Scout year and among the new green bar men selected were Robert Jackson and George Taylor, Doran Memorial Patrol; Bently Fields and Charles Campbell, Wolf; Jimmy McGuire and Altonzo Beaver Patrol, Al Fry and Samuel Anderson, Owl Patrol; Timothy Fuller and Charles Foster, Flying Eagle Patrol; and Clark Arrington was transferred to the Fox Patrol. Former Patrol Leader Earl Cousin will lead the bicycle patrol and Everett Faulkner is the new assistant scribe.

At the Scout meeting Friday evening Troop Committeeman Donald Beech was present and announced that Mr. Collins has been reappointed Scoutmaster and our registration papers include 72 Scouts, an assistant Scoutmaster and six Troop Committeeman. The Troop has 10 Patrols and continue to hold regular meeting on each Friday at 3:30 in the Mt. Zion M. E. church. On Saturday the Junior Council will meet with our Scoutmaster to arrange for the spring program.

On Monday a group of the larger Scouts plan to enroll in the First Aid course being conducted. At a meeting held with Scoutmaster William Collins it was announced that arrangements had been completed for the Troop's sixth anniversary banquet which will be held at the church. A. E. Roberts will speak and awards and service stars will be presented to the Scouts who have earned them. Refreshments will also be served by the Scout mothers and the drum and bugle corps will play.

At the meeting Friday the Scouts were urged to feed the birds. It was announced that during the test passing period handicraft, first aid, and signalling were successful passed by Scouts Howard Roley and Alfred Fry. Earl Cousin told a story and songs were sung. The meeting then adjourned with prayer led by Junior Assistant Scoutmaster Ivan Hampton.
