

as judges in the recent dramatic carnival held at the Armstrong high school. The decisions are soon to be announced. J. F. Gregory will deliver the baccalaureate address to the students of the Dover State college on June 6 at the school.

The social service has been busy preparing bundles for bundle day Wednesday, May 26, for the Near East relief.

Miss Estelle E. Pinkney, teacher of music, will present a music week program in the assembly on Friday morning, May 28, at 9 a. m.

"The Land of Good Health," a one-act play written by Edward Miller and presented at the Lincoln theater, was repeated at the Dunbar high school on Monday, May 24, for the entertainment of the high school pupils and those of the neighboring schools.

Armstrong High

Miss Elizabeth Banks of England, noted writer and journalist, was a visitor to Armstrong Manual Training School on Friday. Miss Banks is visiting schools in the United States and Canada. She inspected the work of the shops and classrooms as the guest of Miss Orra D. Weaver, assistant principal.

C. W. Adams, who was severely injured while officiating in a baseball game at the Walker stadium, returned to school Tuesday, his head still swathed in bandages. Mr. Adams was the recipient of many congratulations from teachers and pupils on his narrow escape from serious injury.

Corps area inspection by Captain Kerlin, representing the inspector general of the Third corps area, brought forth many congratulations from the inspector of the appearance of the regiment commanded by Col. Harvard Brown of Armstrong. Companies of the Armstrong battalion are working hard to bring the coveted company prizes to Armstrong again this year. Company M, commanded by Capt. Robert Brown, has demonstrated a fine morale and is looked upon as a formidable contender for honors.

Persons taking part in the carnival talents show and health play were guests of the school at a dance in the gym on Friday. The affair was in charge of a committee headed by Miss Helen F. Crawford and Miss Clayda J. Williams. Other members of the committee were M. C. Clifford, Mrs. I. T. Perkins and I. N. Miller.

Garnet-Patterson Wins First Prize

Juvenile actors representing the Garnet-Patterson school were announced last week through the office of Miss M. P. Shadd, assistant superintendent of schools, as winners of a silver loving cup for their presentation of Wallace Richardson's "The King's Dilemma." In the recent dramatic carnival and contest between 21 schools and divisions 10-13, Miss K. C. Lewis is principal of the winning group.

The characterization included Paul Johnson, Franklin Fletcher, Helen Weaver, George Colen, John Donoho, Lucy Williams, Annie Todd, Maria Perry, Lillian Buckner, Bertha Jervey, Alvin Douglass and Richard Payne. Miss Ida Bailey was directress and Mrs. B. W. Miller stage manager. Sumner-Magruder school took second honors, presenting "Kings in Nomadism," and Mott school third, with "The Touch of Gold."

High School Notes

DUNBAR NOTES

Dame Rachel Crowdy, chief of the social section of the league of nations, who was attending the Red Cross conference in session at Washington, spoke before the noon assembly on Thursday on the social phases of the work of the league of nations.

Dunbar's alumni are maintaining standards set at Dunbar. Word comes from the clerk of the faculty at Hamilton college that Joseph Jenkins, class of '25, has received the following ratings: High honor (90-100) in Latin 3 and English literature 1, honor (85-90) in public speaking 5, philosophy 1 and physics 1; credit (80-85) in English composition 3, French 5 and mathematics 3.

From the department of English of Syracuse university comes the report that Loraine Redmond received grades of 85 and 84 for the two semesters of English 1 then required; that Janet Avery, through a placement test, was put in group B and made grades of B and A respectively in the two semesters; Richard Atkinson made a grade of C in the first semester of the English requirement.

The first annual tennis championship tournament between Dunbar and Armstrong will be held on the Dunbar stadium tennis court Thursday, June 10, at 3:30 p. m.

"The Wonder Hat," a one-act harlequinade by Ben Hecht and Kenneth Sawyer Goodman, has been chosen by the seniors for the special feature of their class night exercises.

Joint Commencement Exercises

Joint commencement exercises of the Dunbar and Armstrong night schools were held in the Dunbar auditorium Friday night, May 28, 20 receiving diplomas for completion of the academic course and 42 being awarded Armstrong certificates for courses in domestic art, auto mechanics and woodwork. Rev. F. I. A. Bennett presided. Dr. Charles E. Stewart offered the invocation and benediction.

The address to graduates was made by H. H. Long, assistant superintendent of schools. Coralie F. Cook, member of the board of education, following a statistical report of meritorious achievement made by Assistant Superintendent G. C. Wilkinson, awarded diplomas and certificates.

Dunbar high night school: Monroe Burgess, Samuel Henry Coward, Joseph James Hamm, Thornton Black-Johnson, Beverly Henry Long, Narciso Martinez Hmlenta, Frederick Douglas Trotter, Warren MacKenzie Ware, Henry McNeil Ward, Teese Del Wilson, Nora Archer Battle, Pearl Juanita Brooks, Elizabeth Bruce Douglas, Carrie Evelyn Dyson, Josie Merle Lewis, Dorothy Mae Robinson, Alice Luelllyn Tatum, Evelyn Watson, Mary Eleanor Webster, Isabelle Byard Young.

Armstrong high night school certificates—Plain sewing, dressmaking and ladies' tailoring: Hester Marion Barton, Leonora Beatrice Budd, Marie Merritt Chavis, Fannie Virginia Collins, Lula Clayton Crawford, Inez Hearn Dantley, Alice Gertrude Ferebee, Dorothy Pauline Fisher, Clara Subeno Helbron Soil, Mary Elizabeth Hill, Helen Honesty, Eugenia Hunter, Lillian Alice Jackson, Cornelia Amelia Jackson, Sarah Johnson, Sarah Elizabeth Lee, Eva Ardel Mims, Emma Jane Minor, Edna Mary Newton, Susan Virginia Nolan, Sallie Payton, Leona Margaret Robinson, Iola Neale Ter, Roberta Spalding, Lillian Colter Thomas, Edna Olympia Trent, Nellie Robinson Turner, Mary Gaines Ware, Dora Della Williams, Mary Annette Young.

Millinery—Rene Lucille Fitzhugh, Josephine M. Franklin, Grace Beatrice King, Annie J. Stewart, Lelin Elizabeth Taylor.

Auto mechanics—Harry William Coles, Walter Irving Hunter, James Newburn, Jacob Sampson, Allen Benedict Sprague, Maj. James Wood.

Woodwork—Stanley Maine Smith.

Miner Normal School

The fifth annual oratorical contest was held at the Miner Normal school on Tuesday, May 25, for the purpose of selecting class orator for the graduating class of 1926. Ten of the best students in oral English were selected for the contest. Among the competitors were Jennie Butcher, Beatrice Bowen, Astreat Campbell, Julia Dulaney, Carolyn Evans, Leonora Freeman, Blanche James, Pansy Major, Sara Moore and Lucille Payne. Miss Julia Dulaney won first place of honor to deliver the class oration on the night of graduation. Mrs. Astrea Campbell stood second, while Miss Beatrice Bowen won for herself the third place.

"The Influence of the Hydrogen-Ion Content of the Soil on the Distribution of Plants," was the topic discussed by J. A. Turner of the biology department of the Miner Normal school before the Natural History club of Howard university on Thursday evening, May 20. This club has been recently organized by Prof. Parker of Howard. J. A. Turner and J. F. Gregory acted