

BOSTON NEWS

By WILLIAM C. MAGRUDER
932 Tremont St.
Phone Highland 1751

Boston, Mass., May 1.—Samuel Harvey of 34 Harvard St., Brookline, left last week for the Long Island golf links, where he will be employed this summer.

Mrs. Estelle Plinckney Clough of Worcester, the celebrated New England prima donna soprano, who was the week-end guest of Mrs. Mary Moore Davis, 56 Warwick St., pleased greatly at the Sunday night musicale Mrs. Moore gave on April 19.

Miss Vivian Burchette of S. Huntington Ave. spent the week of April 20 visiting friends in Worcester, Mass.

Attorney and Mrs. Jordan B. Williams have opened for the season their cottage at Braintree, Mass. Several parties have accompanied them each week and enjoyed splendid accommodations.

Mrs. Minnie Benjamin Craig of New York is visiting Boston, stopping at 550 Massachusetts Ave.

James Weldon Johnson of New York, secretary of the N. A. A. C. P., was in town last week.

Mrs. Gladys Hogan, 614 Columbus Ave., was a visitor recently in New Haven, Conn., and while there was the recipient of much social attention.

Mrs. Roland Wilson, 8 Hazlewood St., and Mrs. Marian Wilson Beasley of Mills, Mass., are enjoying a visit to Mrs. Wilson's parents in Washington, D. C. Dr. Lassister of Newport News, Va., motored to the city last week for a short stay.

Mrs. Clarence Tibbs of Baltimore was a recent visitor to the city, being the guest of Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Atkinson.

Mrs. Howard Finn, who has been visiting relatives in Washington, D. C., for the past two months, arrived in the city several days ago.

Mrs. Alberta M. Johnson of New York, who has been the guest of Miss Beatrice Robinson, 39 Monroe St., Roxbury, returned to the metropolis last Monday.

Mrs. J. R. Webster, 17 Greenwich Pk., has returned to the city from a trip to Philadelphia and New York.

Mrs. Mason Van Horn of Newport, R. I., was the week-end guest of Mrs. Louise Ross, 72 Harold St., Roxbury.

Mr. James A. Barrow of 78 W. Rutland Sq., returned from Chicago Wednesday, where he was called on account of the sudden death of his brother.

Miss Constance Ridley has returned from a visit to Newark, N. J.

William White, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Cameron White, formerly of Boston, is distinguishing himself in athletics at the Virginia institute, where he is a student, and where his father is head of the music department.

The family of Frederick Douglass Daniels, who for the past two years have been in California, are expected back in Boston early this month. Mrs. Daniels, who was Miss Carrie Albritton, has appeared in several recitals in the West.

The engagement is announced of Miss Alice Washington, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Washington of Everett, and William G. Lovett, son of William C. Lovett, also of Everett.

Mrs. Edward Dugger (Madeline Kountz) of West Medford spent the week-end in New York, the guest of her sister, Mrs. Barbara Price.

A very delightful affair was the private dance which Mrs. Marguerite Toy Bailey sponsored for the evening of the holiday, April 20, at the League of Women parlors, 559 Massachusetts Ave. The attendance was divided between the young and the more mature lovers of the dance. In the afternoon of the same day a party for the young folks was held in Rathbone hall, Warren St. Mrs. Edna Bagnall, Mrs. Emma Newman, Mrs. Florence Lewis, Mrs. Mary Ross Dorsey and Mrs. Emma Murray were the matrons in charge.

Dr. Steward's old-fashioned spelling bee, held in Ebenezer Baptist church yesterday last Saturday evening proved to be a very interesting entertainment. Dr. Walter O. Taylor, the well known physician, was the schoolmaster and interjected witty and instructive remarks throughout the contest. At the close of the evening there were four children still standing in the line and by vote of the committee the prize money was distributed equally among them. They were Hazel and Myrtle Campbell, Miriam Gould and Augustus Williams. The committee of arrangements were Mrs. Robena Somerville, Mrs. Aldina Haines, Mrs. Ethelne Pollard, Misses Caroline Gould, Rose Pollard, Myrtle Robinson and Vivian Hodges.

Mrs. Edna Goodell was one of the principal speakers last Sunday at the mass meeting held in Providence under the auspices of the N. A. A. C. P. The matter under discussion was the introduction of our teachers in the public schools of Providence.

Organizations

Dr. P. W. Myyns of Brockton addressed the Bay State Medical, Dental and Pharmaceutical association Monday evening, April 27, at its regular meeting held at the residence of Dr. John R. Hall, 10 Windsor St. There was a good attendance of professional men and at the close of the meeting refreshments were served.

"Versatility" was the theme on which Frank Howard talked at the meeting of the Round Table club held Sunday evening with John Lane as host at the home of his brother, David Lane, 30 Rockland St., Roxbury. George L. Taylor, Dr. C. G. Steward, William Embanks, David, John and William Lane and Frank Howard were the members present.

The League of Women for Community Service held its annual after Easter ball Thursday night at Seaside auditorium, Berkeley St., and though not so largely attended as usual, it was a very enjoyable occasion.

The senior girls of the Robert Gould Shaw house participated in an inter-settlement meet at the Lincoln house, 50 Emerald St., Tuesday, April 21. The Mothers club of the same institution entertained the Roxbury Federation of Mothers clubs on Wednesday, April 22. Whist and dancing, with refreshments in abundance were the order of the evening.

The Roxbury Civic league is fostering a "get to know each other better" meeting to be held at the Practical Arts high school May 7. Speakers from the various national groups are listed for participation, while music will be furnished by the quartet from the Robert Gould Shaw house.

Tuesday evening a dinner whist party was very successfully carried through at the Women's Service club, 464 Massachusetts Ave., with Mrs. Mary Dandridge as chairman of committee of arrangements. Both whist and 500 were played and at midnight a delectable supper was served in the dining room.

The memory of the late Mr. and Mrs. Phillips, well known residents of West Medford, was honored by the Laverett Mott Mothers club last Sunday at the Shiloh Baptist church. Mrs. Sara V. Schenck was mistress of ceremonies. Those participating were Mrs. Madeline Kountz, president of the club; Mrs. Minnie T. Wright, Mrs. Mary Gardiner, Mrs. Dora Johnson, president of the Massachusetts Women's union, and others.

The annual election of officers of St. Mary Musical and Literary union resulted as follows: President, Cornelius McKane; vice president, Henry E. Brown; secretary, William E. Grant; assistant secretary, Miss Vina Whaley; treasurer, Dr. Alfred P. Russell; chaplain, James F. Williams; musical director, Robert Johnson; librarian, Samuel Dash. The present officers will continue their duties through this season, the new ones to begin serving the first Sunday in October. Rollins Hurfill, who has served so well the past year, was offered a second term, but declined.

The speaker Sunday was Bishop Brown of the Bahai cult, who addressed a large audience. The musical program consisted of solos by Miss Beatrice Foreman and Miss Ramsey. On May 2 the debate between St. Mark and the Community forum is scheduled to take place. James Ryars will be soloist.

The Sick List

Mrs. Bertice Calloway of 16 Milmont St., Roxbury, who was threatened with appendicitis, is much improved.

Mr. and Mrs. G. R. Price of 11 Cunard St. have both just recovered from la grippe.

Mrs. Frank Mitchell of 55 Windsor St. is ill.

Mrs. Nathaniel Tarry of 55 Windsor St., wife of the treasurer of Ebenezer Baptist church, who suffered a broken ankle last month, is still confined to the house, but is gradually improving.

With the Churches

"Blood Shedding" was the subject of the sermon delivered by Rev. Frank Brookins, pastor of Holy Trinity. The usual large and appreciative audience was in attendance. At the evening services Rev. E. Wendell Dean filled the pulpit.

Peoples Baptist church began the day last Sunday with a sunrise prayer meeting at 6 o'clock, with Deacon Willis in charge. Rev. Klugh preached at the regular morning and evening services.

The Missionary society of St. Mark Congregational church after its regular meeting Thursday entertained Granville Stewart, William L. Lawrence, Mr. Jordan and Mrs. Bertha Thomas, who left for California this week. Mrs. A. O. Turner, president, was in charge of the ceremonies.

Prof. G. G. Quarker was in charge of the musical program rendered at the Gloucester Memorial Presbyterian church Sunday. He was ably assisted by local talent. The church quartet furnished music for the services.

The third week of the union revival meetings in which 12 Boston churches are co-operating was ushered in at Columbus Ave. A. M. E. Zion on Monday evening, April 27.

The Pastor's club of Columbus Ave. A. M. E. Zion church is making preparations for a mock conference to be held in the church in the near future.