

WORLD CHAOS IS THEME OF BAHAI MEET

Spiritual Phase Of The Current Crisis To Be Discussed

The 28th annual convention of the Baha'i is of the United States and Canada will be held in the Foundation hall of the Baha'i House of Worship at Wilmette, Ill., April 30 to May 3. At this time Baha'i delegates and friends from the 69 Baha'i centers throughout the United States and Canada will gather to discuss the affairs of the cause and to elect the nine members of the National Spiritual Assembly for the coming year.

In their discussion one theme will be uppermost, the vital subject of the world crisis and its clear diagnosis in the teachings of Baha'u'llah, the founder of the faith.

Baha'u'llah's teachings, they are convinced, offer the most fundamental explanation of the present period of increasing unrest and augmenting international problems, and point to the only possible solution in a new world order established upon a firmer consciousness of spiritual as well as social unity among the races, nations, classes and creeds of earth.

Sunday, May 3, at 3:30, there will be public lectures on the subject of "Baha'u'llah's Message to a Chaotic Age."
