Convention Guests

One of the outstanding figures at the convention this week is Noah D. Thompson of the Los Angeles, Calif., Express. His brother Sam accompanied him. Noah is an old friend of the Cleveland correspondent of the Defender. He will go to New York to represent his paper (white) at the Democratic convention. Both are stopping at the Metropole hotel.

The Baltimore bunch is a live one. In the party are C. C. Fitzgerald, Thomas R. Smith, assistant sergeant-at-arms at the convention; Melvin Chisum, financial secretary of the National Negro Press association, also assistant sergeant-at-arms. Other Maryland guests include a Mr. Dennis of Princess Ann, and a Mr. St. Clair, a member of the Cambridge, Md., city council.

Attorney and Mrs. A. H. Martin have as guests Miss Ada Crogman, Mrs. Youngblood, Mrs. Brewer, Mrs. Nellie Baker Cox and Mrs. Howard as out-of-town guests.

Alderman and Mrs. Louis B. Anderson of Chicago are house guests of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Jackson, E. 110th St. Col. Roscoe Conkling Simmons, noted orator, editor of The Week in The Chicago Defender, was on the scene Monday morning, leaving Chicago Sunday night. The colonel is here for the convention an old pilot the Lincoln league, of which he is president.

Dr. W. T. Merchant, one of Louisville, Ky.'s most noted physicians, is in the city for the convention as a delegate-at-large. The doctor is stopping with his friend, J. A. Buford, general manager, in the Anchor Life building. Dr. Merchant is one of the directors of the Mammoth Life Insurance company of his city, of which G. L. Cheatham, president of the Anchor Life, is president. The doctor delivered an inspiring address before the 50 local employees of the Anchor Monday morning and attributed the phenomenal success of the Hope Aid and Relief association, subsidiary of the Anchor Life, to the experience and training Mr. Cheatham received in Louisville, Ky., with the Mammoth.

K. C. Campbell of the department of labor and industry of Lansing, Mich., is one of the leading visitors to the convention.

Church Notes

Mt. Zion.—Again despite the rain a large congregation gathered at the morning service and $225 was contributed to the temple fund. The membership has repeatedly proven that they are solidly behind the movement to secure the temple and have risen to meet every succeeding demand. Among the many distinguished Republican national convention delegates and visitors present were Attorney William Stanton of Pittsburgh, Dr. Ames of Detroit, Miss Catherine Johnson, formerly associated with the overseas Y. W. C. A. work, and Geo. H. Woodson of Des Moines, Iowa, chairman of the Virgin Islands commission. The pastor, Rev. Harold M. Kingsley, preached in his usual enlightened and uplifting fashion. In the evening a meeting was held to honor some of the leading characters of our group in attendance at the convention, Councilman Thos. W. Fleming served as master of ceremony. Prominent among the speakers of the evening were Mrs. Blanche Atwood Beatty of Tampa, Fla.; Miss Camille Cohen Jones and the Hon. Chas. A. Cottrell of Toledo, Ohio. The church was taxed to its utmost capacity and hundreds were turned away. The meeting was sponsored by Mrs. Lethia C. Fleming and Rev. H. M. Kingsley. A delightful musical program was rendered by Miss Mabel Clark, Miss Georgia Field, Mt. Zion choir and the Mozart Glee club. The sum of $263.60 was raised for the temple fund. The formal opening of the temple is announced for June 29. Dinners will be given June 18 and 25 by the T. M. T. M. and Philathea classes.

With the Clubs

The Autumn Leaf Culture club met with Mrs. Florence Robinson June 4. Next meeting with Mrs. John Cossey, 2215 E. 35th St.

The Assembly Study club's third annual reception at the Cedar "Y" was one of the most brilliant affairs of the season, over 100 guests responding to the invitations. The hall was beautifully decorated, the club color scheme, green and gold, being carried out. Mrs. Cora West Robinson has been president of this club for three consecutive years.

Mrs. Lucille Morrow, E. 95th St., was hostess to the Present Day club Tuesday of last week. The following officers were elected: Mrs. Lottie Styles, president; Mrs. Elizabeth Moore, vice president; Mrs. Mae Baisey, secretary; Mrs. Sophia Bailey, treasurer; Mrs. Wilberetta Pope, assistant treasurer; Mrs. Esther Spencer, assistant secretary; Mrs. Hazel Hickman, parliamentarian. Mrs. Styles was elected delegate to the state federation meeting at Lima; Mrs. Baisey, alternate.

The Sunbeam club plans to give a card party at the Central bath house June 26.

The Paramount club was delightfully entertained by Miss Bliss at the home of Mrs. Poole, 2328 E. 37th St., June 4. Prizes were given to the members in the card contest, as follows: Mrs. Orr and Mrs. Covington, first prize; Mrs. Bliss and Mr. Townsend, the trophy. Next meeting at the home of Mrs. Covington, 2330 E. 90th St., with Mr. Branch as host.

The Present Day club will hold its next meeting June 17 with Mrs. Lottie Styles, president, E. 95th St.

A banquet for mothers and daughters will be given under the auspices of the Council of Colored Women at the Cedar "Y" June 16 from 6 to 8. The council is raising funds to aid the purchase of a home for friendless girls. The Ever Ready Sewing circle held its meeting with Mrs. Mary E. Lane, 4206 Cedar Ave., Tuesday evening, June 3. The program included a business session after which it was decided to hold a box social June 17 with Mrs. Montgomery, 2484 E. 20th St. A dainty three-course luncheon was served by the hostess, Mrs. Gertrude Brown, president; Mrs. F. Burney, secretary.

Association Notes

Phyllis Wheatley
On June 27, 28 and 29 the Phyllis Wheatley association will hold a conference for high school girls at Camp Merriam on Rocky river. This conference promises to be exceedingly interesting as well as beneficial. It will be possible to accommodate 75 girls. We urge high school girls to register at once so they may be among those privileged to share this wonderful opportunity.

The regular camp season will open Monday, June 30. Many new attractive features are being added to Camp Merriam this year, so that even more than ever before it is an ideal place for girls and adults to spend their vacations.

The recent Phyllis Wheatley bazaar under the direction of Mrs. T. M. Farlice as chairman proved the most successful bazaar in the history of the institution.

Y. M. C. A.

E. Harold Mason is with us and will spend his time among you recruiting new members and getting acquainted with the old members. J. Walter Willis is working with the chorus of ladies for the convention of the National Association of Negro Musicians to be held in Cleveland in July. About 500 will be in the chorus. The Mozart Glee club will be active nearly every night during convention week, singing at different gatherings of visiting delegates. Executive Charles E. Frye and wife announce a new "assistant secretary" at Cedar "Y." Miss Della Elizabeth Frye arrived May 31, weight 5½ pounds. Have you noticed the smile on the captain's face? All tennis players are requested to get in touch with Dr. Robt. Martin as soon as possible so some tournaments may be started.

Cleveland Society

Mr. and Mrs. Warren Hatcher have as guests during the convention, Geo. H. Jones, retired merchant of Jacksonville, Fla.

Dr. J. A. White of Tampa, Fla., is one of the most aristocratic looking visitors to the convention. He is stopping at the Metropole hotel.

Dr. W. W. Whitfield and sister, Miss Viola, have as guests Dr. E. E. Green and son Charles and wife of Detroit, Mich.

Mr. and Mrs. Chester Jackson, E. 104d St., have as guests for the week Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Smith of Detroit.
