

CHARLES S. ZIMMERMAN, ILGWU vice - president and chairman of the AFL - CIO Civil Rights Committee, is flanked by Glenford Mitchell, leader of the student sit-in movement in Raleigh, N. C. and by Edward Rodman, leader of the Portsmouth students. All are on a picket line sponsored by locals of the International Ladies Garment Workers Union. More than 1000 union workers participated in lunch hour picketing of three of the largest Woolworth stores in midtown Manhattan. Union action was part of the campaign sponsored by CORE to boycott Woolworth stores in the North. Zimmerman, a member of the CORE National Advisory Committee, said: "The owners of Woolworth stores must face the fact that millions of Americans, the members of our union among them, find discrimination highly offensive. They must face the fact that millions of people in the North will not patronize Woolworth as long as Woolworth practices discrimination in the South. They must face the fact that we are determined to take the profit out of discrimination.
