

Montreal Woman In Bahai Marriage

MONTREAL, Que., April 9. — Miss Mary Maxwell, daughter of W. S. Maxwell, wealthy Montreal architect, was married to Shoghi Effendi Rabbani, head of the Baha'i faith, great-grandson of Baha'llah, founder of this movement. The marriage is said to have taken place in Haifa, Palestine.

The young woman has been a leader of the Baha'i cult in this city for many years. It is said her parents, both enthusiastic followers of the movement, are now en-route to Haifa.
