

NCNW Issues List Of Meetings At Which Had Or Will Have Delegates

WASHINGTON, D. C. — The National Council of Negro Women, composed of 22 national organization affiliates and 95 local and junior member councils, recently released a list of meetings at which it either has been represented recently or will be represented soon.

Among those at which it has been represented recently are.

A planning meet in Boston for the coming celebration of the 10th anniversary of the North Atlantic Treaty organization. Attending the planning session was Mrs. Eunice Hunton Carter, chairman of N. C. N. W.'s international relations department.

The Tokyo conference of the Pan Pacific and Southeast Asia Women's association to which Mrs. Ruth Mueller, director of NCNW's Farwest region, was named an official member of the United States delegation.

In joining the discussions on the role of women in community development, Mrs. Mueller discussed the problems of common concern to Asian and American women.

A conference at the Department of Labor with Mrs. Alice K. Leopold, assistant secretary of labor for women's affairs and director of the Women's Bureau of the Department of Labor.

Representing NCNW were President Dorothy I. Height and Executive Director H. Elsie Austin.

The fifth annual workshop of the National Social Welfare assembly held here recently at the Department of Health, Education and Welfare and at the American Red Cross.

The Council was represented by President Height, Vice President Iola Jones of Florence, S. C., Mrs. Lewis and Mrs. Montrosa Frazier, a member of the social welfare department.

The McCall Magazine conference on better living had Miss Austin and Mrs. Jackson representing the Council as observers.

A tea commemorating the opening of B'nai B'rith's Roosevelt Four Freedoms library here was another auspicious event. Guests viewed collections based on the four freedoms. Miss Austin represented NCNW at the tea sponsored by B'nai Brith Women.

A meeting was held last month in New York of the National Foundation, an organization working in the areas of medical scientific research, professional education and medical care. Representing the Council was Miss Height and Miss Austin.

Among meetings at which the Council will be represented are:

A series of planning meetings for the third national conference on the exchange of persons to be sponsored here next January by the Institute of International Education.

Representing the Council at the New York planning session last month were Mrs. Eunice H. Carter, chairman of the international relations department and Mrs. Alice Arrington, chairman of the personnel committee.

The Mental Health assembly in Kansas City, Mo., Nov. 18-21, sponsored by the National Association is another forthcoming activity for Mental Health. Miss Lewis will soon designate the Council's representative.

The second annual community development workshop of the American Council on Human Rights was held here Oct. 18.

The national meeting of the American Association for the United Nations was addressed by Contralto Marian Anderson, who was recently appointed a U. S. delegate to the UN. The meeting was held here last Thursday.

The international cooperation workshops sponsored by the National Conference on International Economic and Social Development, Inc., will be held Nov. 12-13 at the Woodner hotel here.

The International Town Meeting tour of South America next month is sponsored by International Seminars, headed by George V. Denny, founder of "America's Town Meeting of the Air."

Miss Height, the Council's representative, will join the tour following NCNW's annual convention in Washington next month.
