The White House, Saturday, extended its felicitations to the Ninth Street Y.M.C.A. of Cincinnati. Dr. Charles E. Dillard, chairman of the Y Twentieth Anniversary Committee, is in receipt of a communication from President Roosevelt in which he reiterated statements he had made concerning the work of the organization as a whole.

To your part in this great work, I pay high tribute. Your organization has fused the principles of the Christian life with the ancient ideal of a balanced mind and body as the effective instrument with which youth shall reach his goal." W. L. Junior Activities

"All Roads Lead to Dayton."—As far as senior high Girl Reserves are concerned, all roads lead to the city of Dayton where Girl Reserves from Southern Ohio will meet for the annual mid-winter conference on February 21, 22, and 23.

West End Girl Reserves have elected their delegates by means of nomination from club groups and an election through the Girl Reserve cabinet council. We are well blessed at West End, in that in all we have nine delegates.

In the face of the fact that this conference is one which will be limited in attendance we all are happy to have each one of our senior high clubs represented.

The Girl Reserves who will follow the high road to Dayton are as follows:

Virginia Hawkins, Eureka; Ruth Sloan, Phi Oser; Hannah Nelson, Blue Triangle; Dorothy Barden, Ever Ready; Elmira Anderson, Tahigwa; Laura Leak, Tri Hi; Anna P. Peak, True Seekers.

Leontine Turpeau of Phi Oser club and Eleanor Perkins of Tahagwa club by merit of their position as cabinet members of the Inter-Club Council, will have the privilege of attending conference also.

Not only do we expect to have Girl Reserves at Dayton, but advisers too, will accompany the delegation.

Advisers Training Course

During the month of March, just before spring fever time, the Girl Reserve Advisers Training Course which will be conducted by the City Girl Reserve staff plus a National Secretary in the person of Miss Marion Cuthbert, of the leadership division.

We not only want to evade spring fever in our training course, but we also wish to be early birds in that we have our eyes turned toward prepared Girl Reserve leadership for clubs next fall! How's that for catching the worm?

If you are an adviser, we are sure you have ripping good ideas about what we should include in the training course. Let us hear from you.

If you are not an adviser, but have always wanted to live with the most interesting avocation, that of guiding young girls, we would be delighted to share our course with you. May we hear from you, too?

Leontine Turpeau

We would like to call your attention to the outstanding work which Leontine Turpeau, president of the Phi Oser club is doing on city-wide programs. Did you know that Leontine is a member of the cabinet of inter-club council, that she is the co-chairman of the banquet committee for the Hi-Y and G. R. conference in March, that she is the leader for the city-wide worship service which will be held February 16, in one of the big downtown churches.

Let's stand behind Leontine—we are proud of her!

Advisers Conference

West End scored again during the Advisers Conference in Cleveland on January 18. From the whole of Greater Cincinnati, Miss Georgia Beasley, adviser of Fair and Square Girl Reserve club, was the only adviser from the Cincinnati Y.W.C.A.
