BY DOROTHY A. DRAIN

LAST SUNDAY'S GOSPEL FOR THE fourth Sunday after Pentecost and the 14th Sunday of the Church Year continues to hold my thoughts as it expresses so clearly a situation that has become very pronounced in the church since Vatican II.

We can take a 'tech' from this text. . . a quote by Christ in Mark 6:1-6. . . "No prophet is without honor, except in his native place, among his own kindred and in his own house."

The Entrance Song selected from Psalm 26:1-2 will answer the questionable faithful or the agnostics. . . "The Lord is my light and my salvation; whom should I fear? The Lord is my life's refuge; of whom should I be afraid? My enemies that trouble me, themselves stumble and fall." The first biblical quote does not necessarily apply to prophets exclusively. Both quotes are as timely as if Christ was speaking directly to us today.
