

Fete Swedish Prof. At Howard Dinner

WASHINGTON—Howard university gave a dinner on Wednesday in honor of Prof. and Mrs. Gunnar Myrdal on the eve of their departure for Sweden after three years directing the Carnegie-Myrdal study of the Negro in America.

This study, believed to be the most comprehensive yet made of the Negro, is near completion, and many of the volumes are just appearing or are listed for early publication. The volumes include Dr. Myrdal's own critical analysis and over-view of the entire study. The project is sponsored by the Carnegie Corporation.

About half of the large bi-racial research and investigatory staff of this study were members of the Howard university faculty and alumni, and the university recognized this appropriately in giving the eminent Swedish sociologist a farewell party, which was attended by most of his fellow staff associates.

Present at the dinner were:

President and Mrs. Mordecai W. Johnson, Dr. Frederick P. Keppell, president of the Carnegie Corporation which sponsored the study; Dr. Donald Young of the Social Science Research Council; Prof. and Mrs. Ralph J. Buche, Dr. Alain Locke, Dean and Mrs. Charles H. Thompson, Prof. and Mrs. E. Franklin Frazier, Prof. and Mrs. Abram Harris, Prof. Otto Klineberg, Dr. and Mrs. Paul Norgren, Dr. and Mrs. Samuel Stouffer, Prof. and Mrs. Sterling Brown, Prof. Louis Wirth, Prof. Doxey A. Wilkerson, and Messrs. Lloyd H. Bailer, William Bryant and Elwood Chisholm.
