

THE BUCKEYE STATE

By Alexander O. Taylor

Cleveland, Ohio, Jan. 26.—Miss Frances Kihner, niece of Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Hicks, has accepted the cashiership at George A. Myers' Hollenden hotel barber shop. Miss L. Louise Dennie of the Phillis Wheatley association succeeded her at N. O. Stone's shoe store. * In his recent report filed with Welfare Director Lamar T. Beman, James M. Moran, state inspector of private employment agencies, was correct when he said that misrepresentation and deception had been practiced in many cases in the bringing of Race laborers to Cleveland and other northern cities. This has been verified by the fact that several of our churches and citizens have been called upon to provide for many who came here penniless during the last three months. These conditions have been greatly improved since the co-operation of the Cleveland Association of Colored Men (of which J. Walter Willis is president), with the Cleveland Chamber of Commerce and other civic bodies in seeing that only reliable agencies are employed in selecting only the better class of laborers in the south. * A. D. Boyd, popular politician of the Eleventh ward and proprietor of the "Starlight" cafe, was married last week to Miss Idabel Drake, 3263 East 93rd street. Other marriages were: Ralph S. Moore, 2246 East 39th street and M. Geneva Thompson, 2360 East 34th street; John Tyler, 2249 East 30th, and Myrla Irwin, 3329 Central; John Farris, 2211 East 30th street, and Laura Hamilton, same address. * Daniel D. Fowler will marry Miss Vivian Serviss, one of Chicago's most popular young ladies, in June. She was the guest of Miss Edith Wright, West 35th street, during the holidays. * In her recital at Gray's Armory last week Mme. Alma Gluck's rendition of Coleridge-Taylor's "Dawn" was applauded and encored. * Dr. Arthur Scott has returned from Hot Springs, Ark., greatly improved. * The butter committee of the Cleveland Home for Aged Colored People met at Mrs. Mollie DeBraun's, 3525 Cedar avenue, Wednesday evening. The board of lady managers met at Mrs. T. J. Hicks, 2164 East 74th street, Monday evening. * A splendid movement has been launched by some citizens by the formation of the Realty, Housing and Investment company, with the following officers and directors: J. Walter Willis, president; Thomas W. Fleming, vice president; Welcome T. Blue, secretary; J. W. Turk, treasurer; Robert R. Cheeks, attorney; Ormond A. Forte and Nahum D. Brasher, publicity managers; Robert Bass and J. C. Hudson. As housing conditions have become very acute for our people in Cleveland it is hoped that this movement will be fostered with such a spirit as to provide home comfort at a low, reasonable price. * Rev. William A. Byrd, Rochester, N. Y., contributing editor of the Cleveland Gazette, delivered a splendid lecture on "Disfranchisement" at Antioch Baptist church Wednesday evening under the auspices of the local branch of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People. * Mrs. Henry Blake, royally entertained the Present Day club last week Tuesday afternoon. Mrs. Leonard Fairfax will be the next hostess at her home, 4210 Cedar avenue. * Robert Crowler, president, entertained the officers of the St. John's C. E. society last Wednesday evening. * Miss Jane E. Hunter, managing secretary of the Phillis Wheatley association, reports, of the 1,061 applications received for work from women during the past year, 907 were supplied. The number of calls for maids from employers was 2,276. Shortage of help left 689 calls unfilled; 407 girls were sheltered during the year, 178 girl transients and 78 new girls were taken care of. The "Let Us Be Friends" club of the association is doing remarkable work, having raised nearly $50 towards the new building fund. The following are the officers of this wide-awake club of young ladies: Miss Mabel Harris, president; Miss Belle Harris, vice president; Miss L. Louise Denny, secretary; Miss Blanch Hickman, assistant secretary; Miss Emma Howell, treasurer. Miss Hunter has strong support in Miss Georgie H. Fields, her assistant secretary, and Miss Jaunita Bowen, her new social and industrial secretary. * The revival at Shiloh Baptist church closed last week Monday night and resulted in 135 additions being made to the church roll. Collections last Sunday $113 and eleven were baptized. The necessity of a larger church home is more pronounced than ever. Rev. C. G. Fishback is doing a wonderful work. * The Doric Masonic club is expecting a big crowd at its first annual reception at Druid's hall Wednesday evening. The following are the officers of the club: Robert Wilson, president; William Datcher, vice president; Samuel W. Tyers, secretary; J. E. Branham, treasurer. Committee: Messrs. Bennie Stokes, Ringo, John Beeler, Walter Stratton, Datcher and Branham. * Miss Amy Rogers, royally entertained the Alpha Mu club last Saturday evening. Special guests of honor were Misses Bertha Sutton, Emma Askins, Hansbary and Mrs. Rachel Walker Turner, who gave a very interesting talk on her recent trip abroad. * Miss Ruth Dean, the charming daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Dean, 281 Orinoco street, will be the hostess to "The Squirrels" this evening. * Clarence ("Sonny") Brown and Miss Marie Bolden, one of our most prominent school teachers, are to be married in the Catholic church, 79th and Euclid, this morning. * Miss Mayme Logan, Pittsburg, is the guest of Dr. and Mrs. F. H. Weaver, 2200 East 36th street. * Alfred Allen, East 36th street, and Miss Mary Washington, East 28th street, are convalescing slowly. Mrs. Twine, East 34th street, and Mrs. Catherine La Blanche, Central avenue, are still quite sick. * Mrs. Alice Alexander, manicurist at Mose Dixon's barber shop, returned Monday from Columbus. * Mrs. Della LeCount, 1915 Scovill avenue, has returned from Ravenna. * The Caterers' association are making extensive preparations to entertain their hundreds of friends Feb. 7. * Mrs. James Linder, 1915 Scovill avenue, has returned from Jamestown, N. Y., where she was called to attend the funeral of her son-in-law, John Wright, a prominent barber of that city. Mrs. Wright (formerly Miss Madge Linder) will arrive in a few days to remain permanently with her parents. * Attendance at St. John's Sunday school last Sunday, 452. The Baraca Bible class, J. L. Jones, president, was highly honored in having the pastor, Rev. J. S. Jackson, as its teacher in the absence of George Ellis, the official teacher. * The funeral of Benjamin Wilkerson, 2263 East 27th street took place from the Christian Alliance Mission Monday afternoon. He was a long sufferer of brain trouble and highly respected. Other deaths: Indiana James, 6523 Carnegie avenue, Rev. Crable officiating at the funeral; Ellen Clark, 6005 Quincy avenue, Rev. G. V. Clark officiating; Baby Smith, infant of Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Smith, 2230 East 37th street; Winton Fugereit, 2244 East 40th street, waiter at the University club. Slaughter Bros. funeral directors for the above. The funeral of Branch Redman took place from Shiloh church Jan. 18. Rev. Fishback officiating. * Mrs. Anna Evans was hostess to the Willing Workers of Lane Memorial church Thursday evening. Mrs. Nannie Duke entertained at a former meeting. * Hon.
