CINCINNATI.—A treat is in store for all music lovers. On Sunday afternoon, Dec. 24, at 5 p.m., the Allegro choir of Bethel A.M.E. church, in Lockland, is presenting a festival of Christmas carols.

This group is composed of young people, under the competent direction of Mrs. Eloise Lowe Clarke, wife of Dr. W. F. Clarke, of Lockland and Wyoming, and a graduate of Fisk university's School of Music.

The public is requested to attend this production and enjoy an afternoon of good music.

The True Value Girls' club celebrated their first anniversary with a turkey dinner at the Manse Hotel on Sunday, Nov. 19. They presented their organizer, Mrs. Katherine Gentry, with a lovely friendship bracelet on this occasion.

One of the most enjoyable recitals attended for some time was last Sunday afternoon at Mt. Zion Methodist Episcopal church, when the Optimistic club presented Mrs. Rhoza Walker Bullock in a dramatic recital of her own compositions.

There was a representative audience of appreciative persons who responded well to her numbers.

Mrs. Jesse Childs of Beecher street was home for the week end and had as her guests the two sisters of the late Attorney Charles Warfield of Columbus. These two very attractive women reside in West Virginia, but are living for the present in Dayton, Ohio.

Miss Ida Rhodes relaxed in West Virginia at its state college and institute last week end. She had a grand time seeing old friends and meeting new ones.

Word comes to us that Miss Allegra Childs, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Childs, is married and continues to live in New York City. Best of good wishes to Allegra and her groom.

Attorney Joseph Fulton, who has been confined to Jewish Hospital for a short time, has thoroughly recuperated and is now at his residence on Gilbert avenue.

Mrs. H. I. Wilson is again back to her duties at Sherman school after being confined to her home on Huntington place with a persistent cold.

The Anti-Tuberculosis League of Cincinnati held its annual dinner meeting at the USO club in Lincoln Heights Friday. Dr. William Harris (Captain Harris), who conducts the Health Clinic at the club, was in charge of arrangements. Raymond Bennett was marshal of the day and served as foreman of the discussion group.

Mrs. Lucius Duncan was called to Louisville to attend the funeral services of her husband's aunt. Sgt. Lucius Duncan is in India.

Moss Sweeney was host to a well appointed dinner at his home last Tuesday evening. Games of bridge delighted the guests, who were as follows: H. Hannibal Hull, William McCaleb, and Dr. L. L. Hubbard.

Mrs. Lucius Duncan was hostess to the NBBO club last Saturday evening at her home on Grove avenue in Wyoming.

Attorney Elsie Austin of Washington is in the city for an extended time. She underwent an operation Wednesday morning at Jewish Hospital.

Mrs. Marguerite Isby was a Cincinnati guest at an elaborate bridge party in Dayton, Saturday, given by Mrs. Ralph Taylor. Linden Center was the scene for this affair, where 20 tables were set up to accommodate guests from many towns in Ohio. A turkey dinner was served and many prizes awarded. Your scribe was unable to attend.

Sgt. and Mrs. Frank Erby of Dayton spent the week-end with Mrs. Verna Green. Sgt. Erby is a former Cincinnati and is on an extended furlough from Italy.

Mrs. Andrew White of Madisonville was hostess for the Revellers last week. Following the usual line of business and pleasure, prizes were awarded to Mrs. Gladys Tillotson and Mrs. Clay Kendricks.

Mrs. Harry Martin chose Monday to have the Pathfinders as her guests. As an extra diversion, Christmas presents were exchanged and plans were laid to bring cheer to the less fortunate during the Christmas season.

Mr. and Mrs. Percy Williams had covers laid for eight at what might be called the last word in Brunch Sunday morning at 11 o'clock, on Taft Road.

Mrs. Verna Greene was hostess Sunday evening at a dinner for Sgt. and Mrs. Frank Erby, of Dayton; Dr. William Collins, of Detroit; Dr. and Mrs. Eugene Cannady, and Dr. and Mrs. L. L. Hubbard.

The genial F. Douglas Henrys had as their guests Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. Percy Williams of Taft Road. The Henrys are known for their charm and affability, and so it was quite an occasion.

Mrs. Jesse D. Locker, wife of Cincinnati's councilman, is confined to Jewish Hospital after having undergone a major operation. Send her a card.

Our dinner guest Thursday was Sgt. Robert Rice, stationed in New Orleans, who is on an extended furlough visiting his sister and friends in Dayton. Sgt. Rice flew here from Dayton and planed out the same evening for Jacksonville, Fla., where he visited friends. He returned to Ohio Sunday.

Miss Edith Howard and Mrs. William Martin Harris week-ended in Chicago, the house guests of Mrs. Eddridge Woods and Mrs. A. S. Johnston. Mrs. Woods is former supervisor of playgrounds and Mrs. Johnston is a retired teacher of Roosevelt High school, Gary. Together, with the Cincinnati guests was Mrs. Cora Ingram, of San Antonio, Texas.

They attended many interesting exhibits, and were feted with dinners and the movies.
