

MARYLAND

BALTIMORE

By ELAINE STEVENS

BALTIMORE, Md., Feb. 9—Prof. Howard L. Cornish of Morgan State college, was reelected president of the city-wide Young People's forum recently. Maco Howard was reelected first vice president. Others elected were John Haywood, Charles Lawson, Mrs. Ellen May Steart, Mrs. Edna Coleman, Miss Mary Gwynn, Miss Elinora Ireland, and Ulyssess Clover, vice presidents; Miss Catherine Nelson, recording secretary; Miss Dorothy Harris, assistant secretary; Mrs. Kathrine White, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Lillian Hunt, financial secretary; Miss Carrie Peat, assistant financial secretary; and Miss Ethel Logans, treasurer; and Miss Mattie Ewell, assistant treasurer.

The chairmen of the committee elected were Mrs. Elizabeth McCutcherson and Miss Jeanette Nelson, social; Misses Florence Nelson and Lucretia Lipscomb, membership; Mrs. Edna Coleman and Miss Kathrine White, recreation; Ulyssess Clover and Miss Elaine Stevens, publicity; Mrs. Bertha Black and Mrs. Elsie Irvin, ushers; Miss Althea Saunders, ways and means, and drama Mrs. Edna Coleman and Barbara Handy.

The group selected Charles Lawson to represent them at the meeting to "Mr. Youth Goes to Washington," which is to be held in Washington, February 9 to 12, inclusive. The group celebrated their ninth birthday in the form of a party.

Mrs. Emma Breckenridge, president of the Orchid Pleasure club, was host to the club last Tuesday at her home, 9808 West Lanvale street. Plans are being made for a Valentine party. Mrs. Sarah Paster of Atlantic City, N. J., and John Williams of Newport, R. I., were honored guests.

The planning committee of the 1940 Jabberwock has announced that its program this year will exceed that of last year in gaiety, skillful performances and novelty. It is given by amateur talent annually, under the auspices of the Delta Sigma Theta sorority.

Among the participating fraternities and clubs this year are Fire Siders, Bugs, Alpha Phi Alpha fraternity, graduate chapter; The Scatterbrains, Guardsmen, and the Tau Chi Omicrons.

The best performance will receive $15, second, $10; and baskets of food will be raffled off after the presentation and music and dancing will be additional features of the evening.

The affair will be held at the new Albert Auditorium on February 20. Miss Georgeanna McMechen and Miss Helen Holt, chairmen, and Miss Violet S. Banks is president of the Baltimore chapter.

Dr. Alain Locke, professor of philosophy of Howard university, was guest of the art committee of the Baltimore Museum of Art at its regular meeting Sunday, which was held at the headquarters of the Cooperative Women's Civic league. He discussed the program of the year with the group.

Miss Emma E. Bright was honored at a testimonial dinner at the Y.W.C.A. last Tuesday night. Miss Bright taught in the Baltimore school system for forty years, twelve of which were spent as statistician in the office of the director of schools.

Dr. Miles W. Connor is president of the Principals' Association which sponsored the dinner which was attended by 57 educational administrators and supervisors and the honoree's nephew, Marshall Bright.

Miss Bright was presented a radio in appreciation for her services. Tributes were paid her by George B. Murphy Sr. Mrs. Viola Jackson, John Woodlaws, William H. McAbee, and Miss Ella Brown.

The musical part of the dinner program was furnished by the chorus of the Principal's Association, directed by Houston Jackson. Humorous features were in the form of an original poem dedicated to Miss Bright by Mrs. Estelle W. Lee and a novelty skit enacted by Elmer Henderson.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles received a visit from the stork last Tuesday morning. It was a baby boy weighing eight and three-fourth pounds.