

'World' Dinner Seeks Africa, U.S. Harmony

NEW YORK—Keynote address during the One World dinner of the African Academy of Arts and Research scheduled at the Capitol Hotel here, Nov. 22 will be delivered by Dr. Charlotte Hawkins Brown, founder-president of Palmer Institute, on the need for bringing Africa and America closer together.

Dr. Brown will be followed by James P. Gifford, Columbia university law dean, on the program honoring K. Ozuomba Mbadiwe, retiring head of the academy, who will soon return to his native Africa, after seven years work here. Another important speaker is Dr. A. B. Xuma, spokesman for eight million South African Negroes, who arrived here recently to denounce Prime Minister Jan Smuts attempt to annex more African territory. Dr. Xuma will receive a certificate of merit for his work in world race relations from the academy.

Besides the speeches on extension of world civil rights, and better international relations, the dinner will feature presentation of the Wendel Willkie Memorial award to Ethiopian emperor Haile Selassie. Given for his contributions to world peace it will be accepted by the emperor's proxy, Ambassador Ras H. S. Imru from James S. Watson, head of the Willkie award committee.

United Nations' delegates from Liberia, Haiti, Russia, India and Egypt, have been invited to the dinner, theme of which is "Africa Looks Ahead."

Sponsors include Judge Jonah Goldstein, Dr. Ruth Foster, Dr. Eustice H. Bruynning, Stanley Isaacs, Joe Louis, Canada Lee, Rev. O. Clay Maxwell Sr., Herbert Miller, Dr. Walter Merrick, Judge Jacob Panken, Rev. Walter S. Pinn, William Jay Scheffelin, Oswald G. Villard.

Hope Stevens, Eleanor S. Gimbel, Rev. Sandy F. Ray, Rev. James H. Robinson, Dr. A. G. Daly, Raymond P. Alexander, Mrs. Mary McLeod Bethune, Dr. Alain Locke, Ashley L. Totten, Rev. Charles Y. Trigg, Bishop W. J. Walls, James E. Allen, Dr. Abdul Bey, Leo Pollack, Dr. P. M. Savory, Judge James S. Watson, and Mrs. Mattie Hunter.