Cleveland, Ohio, Dec. 22.—Mrs. Lola Good, 59th street, returned from a delightful two month's visit in Detroit. Emmett H. Armstrong arrived from Marked Tree, Ark., Wednesday and is stopping with his friends, Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Bell, 237 East 57th street. Mr. Armstrong, located Mr. and Mrs. Bell by reading of them in the Buckeye State columns of the Defender. This and many other instances furnish splendid evidence of the value of the columns of the Chicago Defender, The World's Greatest Weekly. Don't miss an issue or you might miss some very valuable information.

A. O. Taylor

Mrs. Livingston, East 59th street; Miss Naomi Price and sister; Mrs. Cooper, East 43d street, and Mrs. Mamie Hawkins, East 43d street, social worker at Central high, were to leave this Friday night for Washington, D. C., to spend the holiday vacation with friends and relatives. Mrs. Hawkins will visit her old home, Greenville, S. C., before returning home. Mrs. Cora West Robinson, 1659 East 75th street, president of the Assembly club, has been quite ill at home. William Anderson, 2226 East 90th street, is confined to his bed, threatened with double pneumonia. Mrs. Grace Taylor, wife of Dr. J. H. Taylor, is ill with tonsillitis. Kenneth Burke, student at Ohio State university, is spending the holiday vacation with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Burke. Miss Mary J. Boone, 2183 East 31st street, proved a pleasing hostess to the Bonae Puellae club last Wednesday. Mrs. Theresa Miller gracefully assisted the dinner at entertaining. Miss A. Knox is president of the club. Members of the service department of the Caterers association are equipping the club rooms at 38th and Central. Charles Martin is president and George Alexander is secretary of this auxiliary of the Caterers association. The Orchid Needle club will meet Wednesday, Dec. 27, with Mrs. James Offer, East 34th street. Mrs. Estelle Merritt, president. Mrs. Alfreda Bell, East 58th street, popular member of the Optimistic club, is at the hospital and improving. Mrs. T. J. Hicks, East 74th street, attended the funeral of her very dear friend, Dr. John W. Banks, in Columbus, Ohio, last week. Dr. Banks, who practiced chiropody in Cincinnati a number of years, was the son of Mrs. William Patterson of South Ohio street, Columbus, Ohio. Apoplexy was the cause of death. Dr. J. T. Bridgeman received word from the Ohio Dental board notifying him of his success in the recent state examination, saying that he is at liberty to practice at once. This was good news to the doctor, who is one of our most ambitious and promising young men. Best wishes from the Defender, Dr. Bridgeman. Mrs. Mary Jackson, East 71st street, one of St. John's leading deaconesses, celebrated her birthday with a party for a few friends Monday evening. J. Anderson, the East end mail carrier, was called to Cincinnati by the death of his father. The Tridstone Baptist church met in the church on Tuesday evening. Charles Fitzpatrick is president of the society. Mrs. Minerva Taylor, housekeeper at the P. W. A., who underwent an operation at St. Vincent's Charity hospital, was able to be removed to her room at the P. W. A. last week. Mrs. Charles M. Williams, East 84th street, was able to be up the first of the week. Miss Marie Yaz, nurse in charge of the accident wards at Charity hospital, is able to be out after several weeks' illness, the result of a nervous breakdown. Through Miss Yaz we are able to have three other Race nurses at Charity: Miss Hattie Henderson, Mrs. Jackson and another whose name we were unable to learn. Miss Henderson is said to be a special nurse; salary $49 per month. This is splendid news, proving that our nurses can make good if given an opportunity. Miss M. Hill, who arrived in the city several weeks ago, is another competent nurse. She comes highly recommended from the Baptist hospital in Memphis, Tenn., and has performed excellent service since her arrival. Miss Hill is stopping at the residence of A. T. Abbott and daughter, 2127 East 96th street, vice-president of the Anchor Life Insurance company. Miss Helen Curtis of Brooklyn, N. Y., national director of the Anti-Lynching Crusaders, spoke to a large and appreciative audience at the Caterers association company evening. The Pleasant Company club meets this Thursday with Mrs. Cox, 1537 East 79th street. Next meeting with Mrs. Barber at the Willowick club, Willowick, Ohio. The Optimistic club will meet Tuesday, Dec. 25, with Mrs. Nollie De Bran, 2344 East 69th street. This will be the Christmas party of the club.

Mrs. A. H. Martin proved a charming hostess at a reception given at her home last Monday evening in honor of Miss Helen Curtis of the Anti-Lynching Crusaders.

Pioneer Residents Dead
St. John's A. M. E. church lost two of its pioneer members last week by the deaths of "Aunt" Sallie Barnes of the Old Folks' home and Simon Ward, East 29th street, at Lakeside hospital Sunday morning. Miss Barnes was one of the most cheerful characters in the institution and had a host of friends who will miss her greatly. The same may be said of Mr. Ward, who as late as last summer was the center of attraction at the Ohio Pythian Grand lodge in Urbana, where the past chancellor's degree was conferred upon him. He was the stepfather of Mrs. George Dean, 2325 East 86th street. Both led exemplary Christian lives and had been active in the affairs of St. John's. Mrs. Jackson, mother of Mrs. Hart, 2245 E. 43d street, died last week. Two of St. John's members were buried Monday. Deaths reported by Slaughter Bros. follow: Mary Washington, 43, wife of John Washington, 6621 Belvidere avenue, shipped to Charleston, W. Va.; Joseph Simmons Woods, 51, husband of Elizabeth Wood, 2252 East 90th street; Thomas Giles, 30, husband of Mrs. Pere Giles, 2559 East 40th street; Evelyn Norward, 25, daughter of George Norward, 2158 East 38th street; Clarence Chavous Gardner, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. Chavous Gardner, 10307 Wain court; Bloise Avery, 2538 East 40th street, husband of Rosa Avery; William Kay, 3311 Scovill, services at the U. N. I. A. hall, a lieutenant of this organization and brother of Herbert Kay; Anna Young, 26, wife of Will Young, 2225 Central; George Goggin, 17, shipped to Alabama; Mrs. Mary H. Anderson, 2253 East 100th street, entered at luncheon in honor of Madam M. O. Ransom. Covers were laid for six. Mrs. Anderson proved to be a charming hostess. Miss Inez Nelson and baby, Wendell, who have been visiting her mother, Mrs. Marie Bell, 4206 Scovill avenue, suite 1, left Sunday morning for her home in Omaha, Neb. Mrs. Marcellus Early gave a reception in honor of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Moore, Toledo, Ohio. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. James Offer, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Palmer Boyd, Mr. and Mrs. Wadell, Mrs. Mamie McQueen, Miss Mattie Thomas and Ragnell Reeves. Mrs. Early proved a delightful hostess. Miss Adelaide Cater, East 30th street, stenographer in the offices of Councilman Fleming, is able to be on her job after a week's illness with tonsillitis.

Mme. Ransom Pleases
Mme. Nell O. Ransom, student of Mme. Adeline Belloni, East 103d street, won artistic success at her recital at Antioch Baptist church last Thursday evening, under the auspices of Mrs. Clara Evan's rally club. She displayed promise of being one of the leading dramatic sopranos of the Race by her rendition of numbers by Massenet, Francis, Tschernach, J. Rosamond Johnson and Metcalf. She was given a warm ovation most particularly after the rendition of her second group, being forced to respond to several encores. Wilson G. Smith, the Cleveland critic, has this to say of Mme. Ransom in a recent write-up: "Her high registers were made with more grace and ease than by any other young singer he ever heard." Mme. Belloni (white) deserved unlimited praise for showing such an unusual interest in this young singer regardless of the fact that she is a member of our group. She has a charming personality and takes well on the stage. She appeared before the Dramatic Musical club (white) on Thursday, Dec. 14 (afternoon), at Masonic temple and her work was highly praised by the critics. Mme. Ransom will be the coming youngest dramatic soprano of the Race and will be highly appreciated by all according to her teacher, Mme. Belloni. Mme. Ransom will spend the holidays with her husband, Dr. Ransom, Morganfield, Ky., and her parents. She has been highly entertained by her many friends and admirers and has sung at several of the leading churches at morning services as special soloist. Others on the Antioch program were Mrs. Grace Lucas, Mrs. Grace Noble and Mrs. Marion Shaw, soprano soloists; Mrs. Laura Shirley and Miss Mary Howard, pianists; Mrs. Noble and Mrs. Lucas responded to encores. Miss Madeline Clarke was the efficient accompanist for Mme. Ransom. The concert given by Mrs. Mary E. Randolph's club of Shiloh church at the Euclid Avenue Baptist church was an artistic treat. On the program were Mme. Rachel Walker, Cleveland's great prima donna soprano; Arthur Smith, violinist; Prof. G. H. White, baritone; Mrs. Catherine White, soprano; the Thomas Choral club and Miss Kathleen Hand, pianist, who always receives a most enthusiastic reception for her exceptional piano playing. She rendered numbers from Liszt and Reinhold.

Social and Other Notes
The Silent Workers of Cory church held their get-together meeting at Mrs. Amanda Thomas', 231 East 90th street, last week Wednesday evening. Mrs. Smith, matron at Pennsylvania station, acted as hostess and served a delicious luncheon. Mrs. Sarah Porter of Steubenville, Ohio, the only Race public health nurse in the state of Ohio, which position she has held for five years, was in Cleveland last week calling on the Italian consul in regard to the deportation of an Italian family; also in Elyria in regard to crippled children for the Rotary club of Steubenville. While in the city, Miss Porter made her headquarters at the Geraldine hotel, 2212 East 10th street. Mr. and Mrs. Charles R. Elliott, East 43d street, had as dinner guests Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Kirkpatrick, Indianapolis, Ind., and Cynthia Sayles, one of the most popular lodge women in Cleveland, who married last week Thursday night at her home, 3505 Scovill avenue, to Andrew Simpkins. The bride wore steel gray beaded silk and was given away by her son, Clinton Sayles. The couple received some useful and handsome presents. They will reside at the home of the bride. The Rev. E. A. Clarke, pastor of St. John's A. M. E. church, performed the ceremony. Other marriage parties by Dr. Clarke were: Charles McCarty and Alice Singleton, at the residence 10508 Arthur avenue; John Rogers and Sarah Bratton, Jesse C. Mason and Mary Bullock, Miss Dora Duren, niece of Mr. and Mrs. Louis S. Jones, East 101st street, will spend her vacation with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wylie Duren, Columbus, Ohio. The Christian Missionary Alliance Gospel quintet returned last week Monday, well pleased with their tour of four months in Canada in the interest of the Canadian Alliance. The visited Edmonton and Brandon, Calgary and Winnipeg and Alberta, in the province of Manitoba, covering over 5,000 miles, in the interest of the saving of souls for Christ. Personnel of the organization follows: Floyd Lacey, first tenor; J. W. Parker, second tenor and manager; Spurgeon Pones, second tenor; H. D. Hodges, first bass, and A. E. Talbert, second bass. Returning they stopped off in St. Paul and Minneapolis, Minn., and Chicago, Ill. They were given high ovations all along the trip for their wonderful work in the promotion of Gospel songs. They will leave soon on a trip through the United States.

Loula Jones Sends Greetings
Mr. and Mrs. Louis S. Jones, 2256 East 101st street, were the happy recipients of a letter from their son, Louis V. Jones, dated Paris, France, Dec. 2, 1922, in which he sends Christmas and New Year's greetings to all of his friends. He says he is doing fine with his studies and had one good old American Thanksgiving dinner with one of the musicians and his wife. He did justice to the turkey and all the trimmings as one seldom gets those things cooked only at home. Loula says he called at the American embassy and met the ambassador, Hon. Myron T. Herrick, who was pleased to see him and to hear of Loula's work there in school. The ambassador personally invited Loula to call any time and make the embassy his home and if there was anything he wanted the ambassador to do he would gladly do for the asking. Loula says it is good to know that one is under such kind protection. The ambassador has known Loula from boyhood thirty or more years and is one of the most progressive and prominent young men have organized party known as the Royal Vagabonds. They are making preparations for a party New Year's night. Messrs. Russell Fox and Louis Bolden entertained at a party at the Caterers association last Saturday evening in honor of a number of young people attending

Oberlin conservatory. The P. W. A. staff gave a fine party at the Caterers association last Wednesday evening, about 75 attending. The holiday dances of the Hopkins dancing class will be held Xmas night, Monday evening, Dec. 25, and New Year's night, Monday evening, Jan. 1, at So-Jack's Dancing academy, East 59th street and Euclid avenue. Attorney A. H. Martin, president, and R. N. Dillard, secretary. The Cleveland Musical union will sing carols Sunday night, Dec. 24, leaving the Cedar Street Y at 10 o'clock. Anyone desiring such service will notify Dr. Wm. P. Saunders, 46th and Central, or burn candles in windows. Mrs. Grace Willis Thompson, Earle avenue, is president of the union. Mrs. Peter Lucas has been very ill at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Gale, 2266 East 103d street. Mrs. Ella White, Mrs. Sada J. Anderson, Mrs. Flora Byers and Miss Marie Taylor attended the meeting of the Presidents' W. M. M. S. of Youngstown, Ohio, district last week in Canton. Mrs. Anna Ellis of the beginner's department of St. John's Sunday school has been very ill.

Women's Council Meetings
The Cleveland Council of Colored Women meets every Tuesday evening at the Urban league headquarters, 2407 East 40th street. An appeal to mothers: The members have decided to open their doors to some lonely mother or orphan during the holidays that they may be made cheerful and happy for at least one day. The council are asking friends to join them in this movement. If you decide to help, call Randolph 1404 and the council will be very grateful. The council will present the second Blind Tom, "The five-year musical wonder," at St. Mark's Presbyterian church, Thackeray avenue, near 65th street, Tuesday, Dec. 26, 8 p. m. The public is invited to hear this little wonder. The Temple theater, East 55th street, has been given free to the children to attend a matinee Thursday, Dec. 28, at 2:30 p. m. Pictures suitable for children and given under the auspices of the Council of Colored Women. What was decidedly one of the prettiest affairs of the holiday season was the annual Thanksgiving party of the Jolly Circle club at the home of George E. Cassidy, 6014 Central avenue. The evening was delightfully spent in cards and dancing. Albert Williams won the first prize at cards. A delightful luncheon was served and the guests departed in the wee small hours, highly pleased with the evening. Mrs. E. Williams, 2612 East 48th street, proved a delightful hostess to the Jolly Circle club Thursday evening, Dec. 9, the month, many interesting things the month, many interesting things were taken up. One splendid act was the opening of an account with the Empire Savings bank, a Race institution. This is a certain step of progress of the Jolly Circle club. Elaborate refreshments were served. Mr. and Mrs. Earl Calloway, 2222 East 95th street, entertained the Jolly Circle at their residence Thursday evening, Dec. 14. A business meeting preceded the regular whist tournament. Mrs. L. Wallace received first prize and Mrs. Jackson second. Mr. and Mrs. Calloway proved a fine host and hostess. Mrs. Bolden of Chagrin Falls entertained her little son, Johnnie, with a birthday party last Sunday evening. It being his ninth birthday. Among the guests were the Rev. and Mrs. Moore, their children and several other children of the neighborhood. Turkey and other good things were served bounteously. All enjoyed the party as well as Johnnie.
