

9 Ohioans Attend NYA Conference

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Jan. 20—Nine prominent citizens from Ohio attended the second conference on problems of the Race and Race youth, held in Washington under the auspices of the National Youth Administration. The conference concluded Saturday.

Ohioans at the conference were Miss Elsie Austin, former assistant in the attorney general's office, Columbus; Mrs. Lethia Fleming of the Cuyahoga County Child Welfare Bureau; Thomas Davis, investigator, state liquor department, Columbus; Mrs. Marion Hubbard, member of the staff of the United States Marshall, Cincinnati; Miss Jane E. Hunter, director of Phillis Wheatley House, Cleveland;

Bishop Robert E. Jones, of the Methodist Episcopal church, Columbus; Rev. Reverdy Ransom and Dr. James H. Robinson, both of Wilberforce university, Wilberforce, Ohio; Mrs. Estelle Massey Riddle, president of the National Association of Colored Graduate Nurses, Akron.