

Cincinnati Social Notes

By MARION HUBBARD

Death strikes again, dealing two blows to one of the well known Cincinnati families this week. On Tuesday morning Dehart Hubbard's brother, Carleto Hubbard, was found asleep and in the embrace of death, at the Cincinnati General hospital, where he had been removed after several days' illness at his home on Whittier street. Tuesday afternoon, the Hubbard family buried a sister of their father, "Tish" Hubbard. Carleto's funeral was held at Brown's Chapel A.M.E. church, Friday at one o'clock. Even nature seemed upset; rain poured down in torrents during the early morning hours and till past noon.

The heartbroken daughter, Dana Jean, chief mourner; Mrs. Mattie Lucas Hubbard, her mother from whom Carleto was divorced years back, his brothers DeHart, Bertram, Lloyd and Robert; the two surviving sisters; Misses Sadie and Julia Hubbard, a large number of aunts, uncles, cousins, the wives, sweethearts and so forth of the older brothers, made a large party of mourners.

Interment after services in which Rev. A. W. Jackson, Rev. Frank Veal, a soloist, and a trio, participated, was held at the Colored American cemetery in Oakley.

Carleto Hubbard had been employed in the custodial service at Bloom school. Miss Sadie Hubbard came from Cleveland, Ohio, to her brother's bedside on Saturday. Miss Ezell Hubbard cut short a visit at Louisville and Fort Knox to attend her uncle's funeral.

ORPHAN'S FETE

The annual August orphan's feast, which is given for the benefit of the colored orphan asylum on Van Buren, was, as usual a grand success. People thronged the street going to and from and milled around the grounds where the fete was held from very early till very late. As always, the affair serves as a "once a year" meeting place where friends come together for "Aulde Lang Syne."

PICNICS IN ORDER

Coincidentally, two organizations have turned their minds simultaneously to "Picnic," "Fernbank" and "Sunday."

Monday evening the Las Amigos Bridge club held a call meeting at the home of Mrs. Mary Lawson and made plans to picnic at the Fernbank picnic grounds Sunday.

The Lilly if the Valley Federated club has announced that the organization is sponsoring a picnic at Fernbank on Sunday afternoon and that the picnic will be open to the public. Mrs. Julia Anderson is chairman of the committee in charge.

PEACE

From what we hear, Reverend R. Gammon Morris of Calvary M.E. church at Seventh and Smith streets, should have peace for some time to come. It seems that much dissension at the church finally was climaxed by a direct disagreement between the pastor and James Hines who is a member of the church. Whether the battle was one of words, or wits, or even fists, we cannot say for like the four Mills brothers we say "It was told to me I only heard," but however, the dissension was ended when it is said Member Hines was required to furnish peace bonds.

BUFFET SUPPER

Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Scott Alters' garden was the setting for a lovely buffet supper which they gave for their employees on Thursday night. The occasion was the birthday of one L. V. McCue. Mrs. Mary Stone also employed there, shared the honors.

At this supper the Indian Hill Social club was formed. This organization is made up of the employees who are working on Indian Hill, namely, Mrs. Ann Hill Brown, Miss Augusta Harris, Mrs. Rose Gordon, Mrs. Bertha Beverly, Mr. and Mrs. Ross Willis, Mrs. Bessie Washington, Miss Florence Jordan, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Carroll, Mrs. Gladys Hawkins and Miss Anne Ferguon, Mrs. Louise Riffe of Lexington, Ky. was guest of honor. Other guests were Mrs. Torgy Tull, Mr. and Mrs. S. V. Hackney and Harold Moorehead.

BRIDGE CLUB

Mrs. Rose Reeves of the Laurel homes was hostess to the Nine Hearts Bridge club on Thursday night of last week. She served a delicious luncheon and her lovely prizes were won by Mrs. Nellie Bosley, Mrs. Ruby Butler and Miss Ann Pitts.

PURCHASE PROPERTY

Mr. and Mrs. "Bimbo" Sherard moved into their new home on Lincoln avenue near Woodburn last week. Mrs. Mae Doe Mann, one of Cincinnati's most charming widows has moved with her.

Doctor Theodore O. Walker has redecorated the apartment building which he purchased on Gilbert at Lincoln avenue and made it so attractive that many people are anxious to move in.

Mr. and Mrs. Haywood Stone have moved to Madisonville and Mr. and Mrs. Omar Gaines have moved back into their home on Gilbert near the Parkway.

POSITIONS

Raymond Bennett, who was formerly a social worker in this city is now an investigator for the boy's reformatory at Lancaster, Ohio. We understand that Bennett has a large area to cover.

Atty. Elsie Austin, who recently was transferred from the office of Records and Deeds to Office of Brodution Management at Washington, D. C. spent some time in Cincinnati, recently.

Atty. Theodore M. Berry, who, it is reported, resigned his position as race relations advisor in the office of Facts and Figures at Washington, D. C. will return to Cincinnati where it is expected he will resume his duties as assistant prosecuting attorney for the county.

Stanley Roberts, former Area supervisor with the NYA staff of Racial Relations advisor, writes us that he now is assistant to the managing editor of a national weekly newspaper. We recall that much pressure was brought against Roberts several months ago when he together with some other young men expressed their disapproval of what is termed "A Segregated Civilian Defense set-up." It is interesting to see how capable young people bounce up again, if left alone; makes one think of the boy that we now see so seldom, a Billiken.

TRAVELERS

Mr. and Mrs. Pius Montgomery of Stanton avenue went to Versailles, Ky. Sunday morning to attend the funeral of his grandmother, Mrs. Mollie Turley.

Mrs. Camille Hood is spending part of her vacation in Detroit, Mich.

The Dr. L. L. Hubbards are in Idlewild for a couple of weeks.

Mrs. Roger Curd of Georgetown street, Lexington, Ky., was hostess to Miss Effie McFatrige last week.

Mrs. Eliza Offutt of Burdette avenue, has returned home after spending three weeks in Michigan as guest of her nieces at Ecorse, Inkster and Wayne, and in Detroit with Mrs. Irene Moses.

Mrs. Silas Rhodes and her sons are summering in Rhode Island with her relatives.

Last Sunday, Mrs. Jeannette Allen of Beresford avenue, who has been confined for many months at the Branch hospital, spent the day with her family at the Emmett Porter's farm in Milford.

Mrs. Florence Bowman of Gilbert avenue, now appears completely recovered as a result of the splendid nursing care given her by her sister, Miss Fannie Johnson.

The Daughter Elks have delegated Mrs. Allie Billups to represent them at the National Elks convention to be held in Philadelphia, Pa.

Mrs. Elaine Lewis and her son, "Dickie," left Tuesday to spend the rest of the summer in Chicago, Ill., with her mother, Mrs. Rhea Cox.

After an extended visit in Kentucky as guests of Mrs. Louise Riffe at Fort Springs and guests of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur of Race street, and also of Rev. and Mrs. Homer Nutt of First Baptist church in Lexington, Ky., Mrs. Elsie Hackney and her young nephew, Curtis Hackney, have returned home.

Mrs. Robert Evans of Burdette avenue, was pleasantly surprised by the following visitors who spent a week as her house guests: her cousin, Miss Nellie Hughes, charming school teacher of Lexington, Ky.; her brother, John W. Hughes, and their niece, Miss Nellie Agnes Roberson, also of Lexington, Ky.

SOLDIERS

Miss Wilma Smith, her mother, Mrs. Mabel Leak Smith, and Mrs. Elaine Lewis, drove to Fort Knox last week for a few hours stay.

Mrs. Ernest T. Hooper, Miss Ezell Hubbard and her mother spent some time at Camp Atterbury and Indianapolis last week as guests of Lemuel Steed and other soldiers.

Lieut. Joseph Spencer and Lieut. Robert Wrenn left Cincinnati Monday en route to Fort Custer after spending ten days in Cincinnati and vicinity on furlough from Fort Sill, Okla.

Sgt. Vincent Butler and Pvt. James Smith spent the week end in Cincinnati, guests of Mrs. Elaine Lewis and Miss Wila Smith. Several hours at Coney Island were thrilling.

WEEK END

Corp. Jerry King of Detroit, Mich., and Pfc. Lovie Smith of New York provided a happy and carefree week end for Glory Girls Hubbard and Houston with Glory Girls' advisor as chaperon. Coming to Cincinnati, they were guests of Mrs. Bessie Houston, Cedar avenue, College Hill; then of Mrs. Hubbard of Walnut Hills. The party started to Detroit to visit Corporal King's sister, Mrs. Parker and Mrs. Pauline Horn of Vinewood Place. They stopped en route at Springfield, Urbana and Toledo. In Detroit, they were guests of Corporal King's sisters, Mrs. Henry Griggs of Alger street; Mrs. Beauty Plummer and her daughter, Miss Carolyn Plummer, Mrs. Charles Moss of King street, and S. B. McQueen.

Returning, the party stopped in Cincinnati for breakfast Tuesday, driving on to Fort Knox where the girls enjoyed a dinner party as guests of Sgt. H. R. Wright, Sgt. Vincent Butler. Later in the evening, the girls enjoyed a party which was given by the Service club attaches, and, as guests of Sgt. James N. Mines, and Pvt. James C. Smith, Jr.
