

Louis Gregory, Baha'i Leader, Wife In Haiti

PORT AU PRINCE, Haiti, March 5—Mr. and Mrs. Louis Gregory, of Portsmouth, N. H. U.S.A., are spending their vacation here, enjoying the beauty and picturesqueness of the little island republic.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Gregory are prominent figures in the Baha'i movement, Mr. Gregory being a lecturer. In an interview here, the couple expressed deep interest in the people and the country, and recommend it as a vacation spot for persons wishing to meet hospitable people and to see a paradise on earth.

Further Mr. Gregory said, "we find so much here in the way of beauty and charm. Give the Black man a chance and he will make good is my observation after visiting many nations. Courtesy, kindness, dignity, cleanliness, breadth, tolerance, patience, courage, order, scientific knowledge and religion are signs of true civilization, and all are impressive here. This country is most inspiring."
