

Deny Censor Held Survey Graphic Issue

(From Defender Washington Bureau)

WASHINGTON — Rumors that the November issue of Survey Graphic on the Negro has been censored by the U. S. and British governments were denied here this week by Dr. Alain Locke, editor.

The special issue was due to finally come out on Thursday after being held up for some weeks.

Dr. Locke, who edited the material, for the edition, told the Defender: "The rumor of censorship is not exact. Submission of articles to various government officials is done as a traditional Survey routine, wherever criticisms were made.

"This does not always involve modification of criticism but is done as a safeguard and check against inaccuracy of statements and as a courtesy to officials involved."

Dr. Locke declared that the edition as finally issued is a "bold incisive statement of the national and international situation."
