

Baha'i Post

To Al Reed

Alfred B. Reed of Glenview has been elected chairman of the Public Information Service of the Baha'is of the U.S., according to Charles Wolcott, secretary of the National Baha'i Assembly.

Reed, recently retired after 30 years with the Eastman Kodak company in Rochester, N. Y., in order to fill this post. For 25 years he headed up Kodak's International Advertising Division.

He has been president of the World Affairs Council of the Rochester Chamber of Commerce, chairman of the World Trade Committee and charter member of the International Advertising Association.

He has been active in the Rochester Association of the United Nations and the Foreign Policy Association. Reed received his bachelor of science degree from Syracuse university and graduated magna cum laude.

He lives at 810 Hunter rd., with his wife, Dorothea. A son, William, is a graduate student at Northwestern university, and a daughter, Mrs. Edward Roat, resides in Rochester, N. Y.