

Says Religion Means Living A Good Life

"When Baha'is talk about religion, they mean living a good life, not practicing a set of traditions," an officer of the National Baha'i assembly said.

Secretary Hugh Chance said living a good life is accomplished by "truly following the the teachings of any of the great messengers of God; Moses, Jesus, Buddha, Mohammed and others.'