

J. W. Work Chorale

Festival Singers

At Baha'i Center

The famous John W. Work Chorale, under the direction of Delano O'Banion will highlight the international Music Festival, Saturday, February 22, 8 P.M. at the Baha'i Center, 116 S. Michigan Avenue. This Chorale group recently returned from a tour of South America and many other Latin American countries.

Another star is Ruben Anthony, a guitarist, who will give a program of jazz and classical music. Mr. Anthony is to appear in recital April 5, at the Chicago Stage Guild. Other artists on program include representatives from Mexico, Persia and Africa.
