

Louis' Sister To Speak At Baha'i Center Here

Mrs. Eulalia Bobo, sister of former heavyweight boxing champion, Joe Louis, will speak Saturday night, 8 o'clock, at the Chicago Baha'i Center, 116 S. Michigan Ave., Room 1108.

A nationally known Baha'i teacher and lecturer, Mrs. Bobo will talk on the "Promised of Abraham Assured." The program is open to the public. There is no admission and refreshments will be served.

The Baha'i Faith is the newest and fastest growing religion in the world today . . . the one which embraces all other faiths and achieves a oneness and wholesomeness of the human race.

Mrs. Bobo will tell her audience Saturday that "The unification of all nations and re-spirit to man's knowledge and faith."

Mrs. Bobo, who comes to Chicago after a lecture tour throughout the middle eastern states, does most of her talking to non-members of the Baha'i Faith.

After explaining the basic principles of religion, some of which are: Oneness of Mankind; Essential harmony of science and religion; Equality of men and women; Universal peace and spiritual solution of economic programs, she gets around to pointing out:

"The things the people are talking about today, like the President's Great Society, Civil Rights, Justice and a world unified, all stem from the Baha'i Faith."
